

[Download] A Brief History of the Romans

A Brief History of the Romans

Mary T. Boatwright, Daniel J. Gargola, Noel Lenski, Richard J.A. Talbert
*ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF*

Download

Read Online

#360180 in Books Mary Taliaferro Boatwright 2013-10-11 Original language: English PDF # 1 7.40 x .70 x 9.201, .0 #File Name: 0199987556384 pages A Brief History of the Romans | File size: 77.Mb

Mary T. Boatwright, Daniel J. Gargola, Noel Lenski, Richard J.A. Talbert : A Brief History of the Romans before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Brief History of the Romans:

6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Stop saying "when in Rome" By HHThis is one of the best textbooks on Roman history available in English. New to this edition of "A Brief History of the Romans" are the following: Extended coverage by about 200 years, to approximately 500 CE (as opposed to 300 CE in the first edition); two new chapters: Chapter 13: "The Rise of Christianity and the Growth of the Barbarian Threat", and Chapter 14: "The Final Years of the Western Empire and Rome's Revival in the East"; chapters 1 and 2 from the first edition combined into a single chapter titled "Archaic Italy and the Origins of Rome"; an eight-page, full-color insert featuring 15 color plates; and more coverage of women, religions, and cultural history throughout. There is also a Companion Website that offers resources for students and instructors. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. which was a nice surprise. By EUNICE MEDINA Order for Roman history class. It's exactly what i need. It has colored maps and pictures of architecture and art, which was a nice surprise. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful.

InterestingBy Zuodian HuActually a decently well written history book that makes me want to read it. It's not at all dry like I would expect out of a school text book.

How did a single village community in the Italian peninsula eventually become one of the most powerful imperial powers the world has ever known? In A Brief History of the Romans, Second Edition, Mary T. Boatwright, Daniel J. Gargola, Richard J.A. Talbert, and new coauthor Noel Lenski explore this question as they guide students through a comprehensive sweep of Roman history, ranging from the prehistoric settlements to the fall of the empire in 476. Addressing issues that still confront modern states worldwide--including warfare, empire building, consensus forging, and political fragmentation--the authors also provide glimpses into everyday Roman life and perspective, demonstrating how Rome's growth as a state is inseparable from its social and cultural development. Firmly grounded in ancient literary and material sources, the text analyzes major political and military landmarks, from the Punic Wars through Constantine's adoption of Christianity. It also features thirty historical maps revised under the supervision of coauthor Richard J. A. Talbert, almost 100 illustrations, and textual extracts that provide fascinating cultural observations made by ancient Romans themselves. Package this book with Now Playing: Studying the History of Ancient Greece and Rome Through Film for FREE! To order, contact your Oxford Sales Representative and use package ISBN 978-0-19-934334-8.

"The quality of the text is first rate--exactly what I would expect from these authors."--Christopher Haas, Villanova University
"Clear and readable, with good headings for ease of use by students and instructors alike. There is a good balance between text and visual material. The maps are, of course, fantastic."--Andrew Gallia, University of Minnesota
About the Author
Mary T. Boatwright is Professor of Ancient History and Director of Graduate Studies at Duke University. Daniel J. Gargola is Associate Professor of History at the University of Kentucky, Lexington. Noel Lenski is Associate Professor of Classics at the University of Colorado at Boulder. Richard J. A. Talbert is William Rand Kenan, Jr., Professor of History at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.