John W. Wright : History of Marion County Iowa, Vol. 1: And Its People (Classic Reprint) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised History of Marion County Iowa, Vol. 1: And Its People (Classic Reprint):

Excerpt from History of Marion County Iowa, Vol. 1: And Its People Marion County is located south and east of the geographical center of the state, in the third tier of counties from the southern boundary; the fifth tier from the eastern, the sixth from the western and the seventh from the northern.~ It is bounded on the north by the County of Jasper; on the east by Mahaska; on the south by Monroe and Lucas, and on the west by Warren and Polk, the latter county forming the boundary north of the Des Moines River - a distance of about one mile. The county is in an exact square, twenty four miles on each side, with an area of 576 square miles, or acres.
