Strong reminder to respect life and to appreciate freedom.1 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Glad I can pass it on now to my son ...By Daniel P.

Glassman This is a book I read back in the 1960s and wanted it for my son. Had been looking for it for a while since it appeared to have been out of print. Glad I can pass it on now to my son for his reading pleasure. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. This is the master of all books simply because Allen ...By TALAHARRY This is the master of all books simply because Allen Verba and his friend were the first people to notify the authorities of USA, because of that the liberation took place where both countries, USA and Russia's army was involved liberating the rest of the Jews to freedom and saving their lives and many more people from dying a horrific death in the camps constructed by the nazis

April 7, 1944 -- Alarm sirens announce the escape of two Slovak prisoners from a heavily-guarded camp in Nazi Germany. The escapees, Rudolf Vrba and Alfred Wetzler, succeed and flee more than one hundred miles to give the first graphic and exact descriptions of the operations at Auschwitz, which up to that point had only been heard about as unverifiable rumours. Their report, first published in Swiss and then in the western press, made the reality of Nazi annihilation camps explicit and unequivocal to Pope Pius XII, Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt.
