

(Online library) The West: A Narrative History, Combined Volume (2nd Edition)

The West: A Narrative History, Combined Volume (2nd Edition)

A. Daniel Frankforter, William M. Spellman
*Download PDF | ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks

Download

Read Online

#1173736 in Books 2008-08-16 Original language: English PDF # 1 9.10 x 1.18 x 6.391, 2.40 #File Name: 0136056342848 pages | File size: 48.Mb

A. Daniel Frankforter, William M. Spellman : The West: A Narrative History, Combined Volume (2nd Edition) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The West: A Narrative History, Combined Volume (2nd Edition):

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Great Book! By NedaBook Not too deep and not too shallow but just enough information to get the point across, which is "The West." I'd recommend this book to anyone who enjoys reading about history. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Textbook By Customer This book was purchased for my class at Olivet Nazarene University, It was interesting to learn different things that is need for my class. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Book By Joni Smalley This text met the requirements of the reading for an elective course I took to complete my bachelor degree of nursing

The West: a Narrative History is a unique text in its field, as it was conceived and developed as a brief introduction to the history of the West. It is not a reduced version of a larger study, but a fully realized project in its own right. It defines the West in its broadest terms, encompassing all of the varied cultures that trace at least some of their ancestry to the ancient Mediterranean world. In addition, it consistently reminds its readers of the links between the people who have come to define the West and those in other regions of the world.

The West: A Narrative History is one the newest and best Western Civilization textbooks on the market. It is extremely well written, and is brief enough to allow instructors to assign additional secondary or primary readings. It has a superb companion web site, and is priced well below most introductory textbooks. The West could become the predominant textbook in the field. - J. Kyle Irvin, Jefferson State Community College

About the Author A. Daniel Frankforter is Professor of History at the Pennsylvania State University, where he has taught for nearly four decades. His undergraduate work was in the history of ideas and philosophy at Franklin and Marshall College. He earned a Master of Divinity degree from Drew University, did graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Gttingen and completed masters and doctoral degrees in medieval history and religious studies at Penn State. His research has focused on the medieval English Church and on the evolving role of European women throughout the medieval period. Articles on these topics have appeared in such journals as Manuscripta, Church History, The British Studies Monitor, The Catholic Historical, The American Benedictine, The International Journal of Womens Studies, and The Journal of Womens History. His books include: A History of the Christian Movement: An Essay on the Development of Christian Institutions, Civilization and Survival, The Shakespeare Name Dictionary (with J. Madison Davis), The Medieval Millennium: An Introduction, The Western Heritage, Brief Edition (with Donald Kagan, Stephen Ozment, and Frank Turner), The Heritage of World Civilizations, brief third edition (with Albert Craig, William Graham, Donald Kagan, Stephen Ozment, and Frank Turner), an edition and translation of Poullain de la Barres De Lgalit des deux Sexes, and Stones for Bread: A Critique of Contemporary Worship. Over the course of his career he has developed 15 courses dealing with aspects of the ancient and medieval periods of Western civilization, Judeo-Christian studies, and gender issues. His work in the classroom has been acknowledged by the Penn State Behrend Excellence in Teaching Award and the prestigious Amoco Foundation Award for Excellence in Teaching Performance. William M. Spellman is the Dean of Humanities at the University of North Carolina, Asheville. He is a graduate of Suffolk University, Boston, and holds the Ph.D. from the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University. He is the author of John Locke and the Problem of Depravity (Oxford, 1988); The Latitudinarians and the Church of England, 1660-1700 (Georgia, 1993); John Locke (Macmillan, 1995); European Political Thought, 1600-1700 (Macmillan, 1997); Monarchies, 1000-2000 (Reaktion Press, 2000); Extraordinary Women of the Medieval and Renaissance World (Greenwood Press, 2000) co-authored with Carole Levin, et. al.; The Global Community: Migration and the Making of the Modern World, 1500-2000 (Sutton, 2002); A Concise History of the World Since 1945 (Palgrave, 2006); and Migration and the Nation State (Reaktion Press, forthcoming).