

The World in the 20th Century: A Thematic Approach

Stephanie A. Hallock

audiobook | *ebooks | Download PDF | ePub | DOC

Download

Read Online

#682052 in Books Pearson 2012-02-06 Original language: English PDF # 1 9.80 x .60 x 7.90l, 1.15 #File Name: 0136032532336 pages | File size: 72.Mb

Stephanie A. Hallock : The World in the 20th Century: A Thematic Approach before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The World in the 20th Century: A Thematic Approach:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Its okayBy Dillon Gives a detailed enough account of the 20th century but it seems a bit opinionated in some points and not really worth the price that's often asked. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four StarsBy Tiffany B. This was a pretty good textbook. Everything was organized cleanly, lots of pictures, really easy to understand. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Required reading for my History courseBy C T Was not expecting this text to be so well written. It is formatted very well and photos are a great aid to complete the text info. Has been a great asset to my reference library.

Presents a framework of key events in the 20th century in a user-friendly format. The World in the Twentieth Century is a brief, straightforward text written so instructors may guide their students through learning and using the historical events of the 20th century. It focuses on encouraging students to make connections and understand the big picture by centering on four important themes: The effects of technology on world history

The questions at the end of each chapter provide a meaningful launching point for classroom debate and/or writing assignments...I can envision no better text for the Cold War and 20th century political and economic development. - Irwin Halfond, McKendree University

About the Author Stephanie A. Hallock is an associate professor of political science at Harford Community College in Bel Air, Maryland, where she chairs the colleges International Education Initiative. Her primary work has been in the area of global curriculum development and study abroad, consulting and presenting in Bulgaria and the United States. These experiences led to her current exploration of various pedagogical approaches to promote student engagement, both in the classroom and larger communities in which they live. In 2009, she received a NISOD Excellence Award for teaching and leadership. She received her B.A. from Roanoke College, an M.A. from Virginia Tech and a Ph.D. from the University of Miami (FL). She began her teaching career at Barry University in Miami Shores, Florida.